SIGNATURE COCKTAILS (ONLY LOBBY BAR in THE EVENING)

CRETAN FIGURES

Crete's history spans centuries, brimming with amazing tales from the Neolithic and Bronze Age to the present day. One would only anticipate the emergence of captivating personalities from such a rich cultural heritage. Therefore, we have crafted six signature cocktails inspired by the stories, work, and character of six enchanting Cretan figures

King Minos Aegean Bronze Age

There are diverse and conflicting myths about King Minos, ruler of Ancient Crete, son of Zeus and Europe. Some portray him as wise and just leader, who established a fair Cretan constitution. So that after his death he became one of the three judges of the dead in Hades.

However, other myths depict him as a cruel and corrupted king, notorious for his infidelity. One of these myths involves his wife, Pasiphaë, demigod and sorcerer, tired of her husband's affairs, giving him a cursed potion that caused deadly snakes and scorpions to be released from him, inside anyone he tries to be unfaithful with. One of his mistresses, Procris, obtained an Elixir from the enchantress Circe, sister to Pasiphaë, and cured him.

Elixir of Prokris is a cocktail with complex flavor profile and the added mysterious touch makes it an alluring and captivating choice. Enjoy the enchanting experience of this myth-inspired cocktail

El Greco 1541 - 1614

Painter, sculptor, architect. A true artist. Born in Heraklion but spent most of his adult life in Spain. He normally signed his paintings with his birth name, Doménikos Theotokópoulos, in Greek letters, often adding the word Κρής (Krés) which means "Cretan".

Generally considered one of the leading figures of the Spanish Renaissance that defined the 15th and 16th centuries. Although at the time, due to his greatly individualistic expressive style, his art was received with much reluctance and confusion, he is now considered one of the select members of the modern pantheon of great painters.

Fascinated by his imagination, sense of personal visual style, and overall composition, El Greco's work established a foundation for the development of Cubism and has also been cited as a precursor to Expressionism for its presentation of the emotional in ways that had not been articulated before.

Most famous paintings are "The Holy Trinity", "The Nobleman with His hand on his Chest", "Christ carrying the cross" and of course "View of Toledo".

Toledo's View cocktail combines the anise of Ouzo with the rich, aromatic notes of Licor 43. A balanced profile with Spanish and Greek influence just like the artist's soul

Vincenzos Kornaros (Erotokritos) 1553 - 1613

Erotokritos is an epic poem of 10012 rhymed verses, written by Vincenzo Kornaro, a Cretan poet born in Sitia.

The poem's central theme is the love between Aretousa, daughter of Heracles king of Athens, and Erotokritos, son of the faithful adviser of the king. Even though we know little about Vincenzo, he is considered the greatest of all the Cretan poets and one of the most significant and influential figures in the entire course of Greek poetry due to the great impact of "Erotokritos" has to the people of Greece and particularly Cretans.

Aretousa's name means "virtue" and symbolizes the immortality of the soul, while Erotokritos' name reflects the torment of love in Cretan dialect.

The Last Verse is a sophisticated and multi-layered tribute to the timeless romance and cultural richness depicted in the poem. In Greek culture, figs symbolize happiness and abundance while orange blossoms are associated with love and romance, which are central themes in the poem. The unique flavor of Raki is reflecting the cultural heritage of Crete, the poet's homeland

Odysseus Elytis 1911 - 1996

Descendant of a successful businessman in Heraklion with a prosperous soap factory that had the surname Alepoudelis.

On 1935 his first poems published and Odysseus had the idea to change his name. As an artist, he always wanted to distance himself from his family name due to the fact that it was practically a "synonym" with entrepreneurship and consumerism. So, he changed to the literary alias "Elytis". As himself stated, his thought was to put as first letters the "E-L" as they were also first - in Greek language - in the words "Hellas", "Hope", "Freedom" or "Helen", a girl with whom he was in love at the time. He then added one of the most common suffixes in ancient Greek language, "ytis".

Elytis was a poet, man of letters, essayist and painter, regarded as the definitive exponent of romantic modernism in Greece and the world. He is one of the most praised poets of the second half of the twentieth century, with his Axion Esti regarded as a monument of contemporary poetry. In 1979, he was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature.

The Nobelist, with its unique combination of Bourbon, Metaxa, and Sweet Vermouth, is inspired by his evocative and lyrical poetry that often reflects the beauty of the Greek landscape, the sea, and the spirit of the Greek people. The unique blend of spirits and flavors, could serve as a hymn to the creativity, and artistic legacy of Elytis, reflecting the spirit of his poetry and the enduring influence of his work on Greek literature and culture

Ioannis Vlachos, "Daskalogiannis" 1725 - 1775

During Ottoman occupation in Crete, Daskalogiannis asks from a popular violinist by the name Kioros to come to the village Anopolis in the region of Sfakia, in order to play the "fifth-step dance", for a great "wedding" with "12 best men".

That was the coded letter sent by the legendary warlord from Sfakia in order to spread the word across the island about the beginning of the preparations of the fifth attempt - "fifth-step"- to rebel against Turks in which 12 respectable warlords - "best men"- would participate.

For this noble cause, Kioros came up with a variation of Pyrrhichios war-dance of 10 moves in memory of the date that the gathering - "wedding"- took place on 10th of October 1769. The music is consisted by 12 musical phrases that symbolize the 12 warlords while the dancers are held together by the shoulders to point out the brotherhood and equality between them. Pentozali was born!

The Cretan Spirit pays homage to the story of Daskalogiannis and the Pentozali dance by incorporating the robust and bold character of the dance with the smooth and sophisticated elements of this martini cocktail that represents the purity and strength of the Cretan soul while its name reflects the resilience, yearning and determination of the Cretan people for freedom

Nikos Kazantzakis 1883 - 1957

A very controversial figure. Prominent Cretan writer, poet and philosopher, known for his significant contributions to modern Greek literature.

His works, including "Zorba the Greek", "Christ Recrucified", "Captain Michalis" and "The Last Temptation of Christ" have been widely translated and earned him nine Nobel Prize nominations. Despite his literary acclaim, his novels led to condemnation by the Orthodox Church, while at the same time "The Last Temptation of Christ" being included in the Prohibited Books List of Catholic Church.

Although not officially excommunicated, the Greek Orthodox Church refused to grant a burial permit after his death in an Orthodox cemetery. Resulting his resting place to become the Martinengo Bastion, inside the Walls of Heraklion. His untamed spirit is reflected in his epitaph, "I hope for nothing, I fear nothing, I am free."

Gifted Outcast cocktail is inspired by the poetic and philosophical nature of his work. The combination of citrus juices and pomegranate creates a refreshing and intricate flavor profile that reflects the multifaceted nature of Kazantzakis poetry.
